Objectives and investment policy

The sub-fund aims to achieve a continuous income and capital gains.

- The sub-fund mainly invests in interest-bearing securities as well as in convertible bonds and similar securities, in addition to money market instruments. The sub-fund may also hold cash.
- The sub-fund mainly invests in securities with a lower credit rating and of a speculative nature (including up to 10% in distressed securities) denominated in various emerging market currencies and issued or guaranteed by public, semi-public or supranational borrowers domiciled in, having business activities in or exposed to emerging markets.
- The sub-fund can use derivatives to achieve the investment objective and for hedging purposes.

- The currency of this class is NOT hedged against the sub-fund's main currency. The investor consequently bears the full currency risk.
- The portfolio manager can make investments for the sub-fund at his or her own discretion within the predefined investment limits.
- Any income generated will be reinvested and included in the value of your shares.
- The charges for buying and selling securities are paid by the sub-fund. They are payable in addition to the charges listed and reduce the sub-fund's return.
- You can redeem shares in the sub-fund on any working day. The only exceptions are on public holidays in Luxembourg or if a large number of stock exchanges and markets in which the sub-fund invests are closed.

Risk and reward profile

The indicator above does not signal the risk of a potential loss, but indicates the fluctuations in the sub-fund's share price in the past.

- The share class is assigned to this category because its share price can fluctuate sharply due to the investment policy applied.
- The historical data used to calculate the profile cannot be used as a reliable guide to the future risk profile of the sub-fund.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change.
- Even the lowest risk category is not entirely free of risk.

When assigning a sub-fund's share class to a risk category, it may be the case that not all risks are taken into account. Such risks include risks in connection with exceptional market events, operational errors, legal and political events. You can find a detailed list of the risks in the "Notice regarding special risks" section in the general part of the sales prospectus. The following risks have no direct influence on this category, but may still be important:

- The credit quality of the securities that the sub-fund invests in can deteriorate. This means there is a risk that the issuer of the securities cannot meet its obligations. The value of this investment may fall if an issuer's credit rating is downgraded.
- Using derivatives results in corresponding counterparty risks.
- The sub-fund entails a higher degree of liquidity risk and greater operational risks as it invests in markets that may be affected by political developments and/or changes in legislation as well as tax and foreign exchange controls.
- Using derivatives creates significant leverage. The sub-fund is also subject to corresponding valuation risks and operational risks.
- This class is issued in a different currency from the sub-fund. Therefore, the investor bears the full currency risk when investing in the sub-fund.
- Distressed securities have a high credit and liquidity risk as well as a judge risk. In the worst case, a total loss may result.
